CG 92-374

DETAILS:

Chicago T-1 advised in December, 1965 and January, 1966, that bookmaking activities are being carried on at the New Lawndale Restaurant, Roosevelt Road and Lawndale, Chicago, by the same old associates of LEONARD PATRICK. Chicago T-1 advised that PATRICK, although presently not an owner of the restaurant, is still in charge of the gambling activity there. [redacted] who is allegedly the owner of the restaurant, has been active in bookmaking activity.

b6
b7C

Chicago T-1 further advised in February, 1966, that the bookmaking activity continues to operate on a wide-open scale at the New Lawndale Restaurant under the control of [redacted]

Chicago T-1 advised that several bookmakers are taking bets in the rear of the restaurant and that the whole operation is under the control of LEONARD PATRICK.

Chicago T-2 advised in January, 1966, two individuals known as [redacted] and [redacted] were booking horses in the bar room located in the basement of the Lincoln Hotel on North Clark Street, Chicago. The informant advised that these two individuals were working for LEONARD PATRICK and that PATRICK controls bookmaking on the north side of Chicago.

b7C

Chicago T-2 further advised that LEONARD PATRICK controls bookmaking and "juice" in the Rogers Park and Albany Park districts of Chicago and is under the direct control of GUS ALEX.

Chicago T-3 advised that LEONARD PATRICK still resides at 2820 Jarlath, Chicago, but is seldom seen at his residence. Informant advised that PATRICK keeps very odd hours and usually is picked up at his residence by one of his associates in a rental car.

Chicago T-3 further advised that PATRICK is in the process of buying into a new gambling operation in Las Vegas, Nevada, and is believed to be entering this enterprise with [redacted]

b7C

Chicago T-4 advised in January, 1966, that LEONARD PATRICK continues to frequent the B and B Restaurant, 3431 West Peterson, Chicago. This restaurant is reportedly operated by ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN, a juice collector and muscle man for PATRICK. The informant advised that the awning company mentioned in MAGGIE DALY's column in the "Chicago American" newspaper in January, 1966, is either the Rayburn Awning Company or the Kenron Awning Company, both on Chicago's north side. The Kenron Awning Company is operated by [redacted] who is reported to be "outfit" connected. b6 b7c

CG 92-374

An article appearing in "Daly Diary", a column by MAGGIE DALY in the "Chicago American" newspaper on January 18, 1966, page 15, column 1, is as follows:

"'On the Juice'.... A former salesman from a north side awning company has not been brought back to Chicago to tell his story of being a juice victim because he fears the syndicate, is the word from investigating authorities. The salesman has been hiding in California since last summer after falling behind in juice payments by more than $3,000 to a top enforcer for Lenny Patrick.

"The former general manager of the awning company also was a victim of juice.

"Several salesmen and some of the office help have been seen frequently in a Peterson avenue eatery and are under surveillance of top investigators for the internal investigation department of the Chicago police department. The problem now is to develop some juice cases.

"The operation also is being watched by federal authorities for possible income tax evasion."

Chicago T-5 advised in February, 1966, that LEONARD PATRICK is still active in gambling and "juice" on the north side of Chicago. The informant advised that PATRICK is now conducting a gambling operation at the Carlton Terrace, 4626 North Magnolia, and it is being run under the eye of [redacted] who is evidently in debt to LEONARD PATRICK. b6 b7c

Chicago T-6 advised in February, 1966, that LEONARD PATRICK is still residing at 2820 West Jarlath, Chicago, and often visits Sam and Hy's Restaurant, 3500 West Dempster, Chicago, in the early morning hours. The informant advised that PATRICK is usually accompanied by [redacted] a close associate of PATRICK. The informant further advised that PATRICK and [redacted] often visit Meo's Norwood House, 4750 North Harlem, Norridge, Illinois. b6 b7c

An article appearing in the "Chicago Tribune" Three Star Final Edition, dated March 8, 1966, on page 3, column 1, is as follows:

"HOW HOODLUMS INCHED INTO CONTROL OF NIGHT CLUB"

"Owner Lulled by Loans on Gambling"

"By Robert Wiedrich"

"A gang of north side crime syndicate hoodlums has taken over a lucrative Rush street night spot, THE TRIBUNE learned last night.

"Investigators reported that in a maneuver which is a classic in mob tactics to infiltrate legitimate businesses, the gangsters accomplished the take-over in a month.

"Name 3 Mob Figures

"Identified as major figures in the expansion of hidden hoodlum ownership along the Rush street night life strip are Lenny Patrick and David Yarros, north side crime syndicate gambling figures, and George Bravos, west side mobster who returned to Chicago last year from semi-retirement in Florida.

"Heavy gambling debts were incurred by the cocktail lounge owner during the 1965-66 professional hockey league season, and the hoodlums forced him to begin handling bar supplies revenue from customers who consider themselves members of the 'in-crowd.' It is patronized by young advertising account executives, rising executives of many business firms, and other professional men and women.

"Early in the hockey season, investigators said, the owner began attending hockey games played in Chicago, making large bets with the bookmakers who frequent the games.

"On one of his first nights at a hockey game, the owner ran short of cash and was permitted to make a $200 wager on credit. He lost. Told that his credit was good, he made several other bets. By the end of that night, investigators were told, the young businessman had gone $1,200 in debt to the gamblers, both of whom were identified as representatives of Lenny Patrick.

"Lulled into Security"

"In the succeeding months, he paid off some of his debts but incurred others as the gamblers lulled him into a sense of false security with such comments as, 'Don't worry about it....we know you're good for it.'

"The extent of his debts has not been determined by investigators, but they are known to be heavy."

"Early in February, investigators were told that the representative of a linen supply company controlled by hoodlums approached the lounge owner and told him that henceforth he would have to do business with them.

"In the following week, similar ultimatums were delivered by the representatives of mob-owned firms dealing in liquor and bar supplies. In each case, the owner gave in to the demands."

"Hoods Come to Collect"

"About a week ago, the two emissaries of Patrick entered the lounge and said they had come to collect the gambling debts. The owner was unable to pay. The hoodlums took hidden control of the place, investigators learned."

"Investigators have heard reports of at least two other Rush street area establishments suffering similar fates within the last year and a half as hoodlums apparently move to solidify their hold on the night life strip."

"Yarros and Patrick have been north side gambling overlords for nearly a decade under the auspices of such gangland figures as Ross Prio and Joey DiVarco. Bravos was brought out of semi-retirement last spring by mob bosses to re-assemble the pieces of the north side loan shark and gambling empire that was showing signs of mismanagement, investigators reported."

On January 3, 1966, [REDACTED] Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach, Florida, advised that his records do not reflect that LEONARD PATRICK was registered at that hotel during November, 1965.

CG 92-374

The source further advised in January, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK and his wife, [redacted] were apparently separated, but their divorce is not final and PATRICK frequents the residence at 2820 West Jarlath, Chicago. CG T-1 further advised that PATRICK is reportedly complaining about finances due to local and Federal pressure on gambling and "juice" operations in the Chicago area. PATRICK reportedly has indicated that his income has dropped off considerably in the last six months.

CG T-2 advised in December, 1966, that LEONARD PATRICK is believed to be living somewhere on West Farwell Avenue, Chicago, but that he frequently visits his wife, [redacted] at their residence at 2820 West Jarlath.

CG T-2 further advised that MIKE PATRICK, a brother of LEONARD PATRICK, is a "juice" collector for LEONARD, but is held in low esteem by the Chicago criminal organization. MIKE PATRICK is considered a "nothing" and uses his brother's vicious reputation whenever he can to put fear into persons he comes in contact with during his "juice" collections.

CG T-3 advised in January, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK frequents El Greco's Restaurant and Armando's in the Rush Street area of Chicago. It has been reported, according to the source, that PATRICK had a hidden interest in various Rush Street restaurants and bars over the years and has finally gotten a foothold due to debts owed to him from gambling and "juice." PATRICK is reported to be extremely careful about being seen by law enforcement officials and is extremely discreet at all times.

CG T-4 advised in January, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK controls gambling and "juice" in the Rogers Park area of Chicago and also has considerable influence in the [redacted] area with [redacted]

An article appearing in the "Chicago American," a Chicago daily newspaper, on September 22, 1966, stated that hoodlum LENNY PATRICK and his wife, LORRAINE, nee ORDMAN, are in the process of obtaining a divorce. The article states that PATRICK is being charged by his wife with desertion.

During December, 1966, and January and February, 1967, numerous spot checks were made at the residence of LEONARD PATRICK at 2820 West Jarlath, Chicago, but neither PATRICK nor any member of his family were observed.

CG 92-374

DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised in February, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK is a close associate of DAVID YARAS of Miami. YARAS spends most of his time in Florida but occasionally comes to Chicago and confers with PATRICK. The informant said YARAS lives on Adams Street in Miami Beach, Florida and is believed to be one of the top Jewish associates of the members of organized crime in the Chicago and Miami areas. Informant said PATRICK reportedly works under YARAS in bookmaking and "juice" operations.

CG T-1 further advised that LEONARD PATRICK reportedly has an expensive home in the $150,000 class located on Star Island near Miami Beach, Florida.

Investigation at Miami and Miami Beach, Florida in May, 1967 failed to locate a residence of PATRICK on Star Island or nearby adjacent islands. During observation of DAVID YARAS in the Miami area during May, 1967, LEONARD PATRICK was not observed.

CG T-2 advised in March, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK is still active in gambling and "juice" operations in Chicago for the Chicago "Outfit". The source said that several of PATRICK's wire rooms have been raided lately by local police acting on FBI information.

CG T-2 further advised that PATRICK's daughter, [redacted] is now residing with [redacted] who is separated from her husband, [redacted] of SAM "BUTCH" ENGLISH, a well-known member of the Chicago criminal element. The informant said [redacted] and [redacted] frequent night spots on the west side of Chicago and in the western suburbs of Rosemont and Schiller Park, Illinois.

CG T-3 advised in March, 1967, that ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN and [redacted] are "juice" collectors in Chicago and work for LEONARD PATRICK. The informant said that PATRICK is in charge of bookmaking and "juice" in the Rogers Park and Albany Park sections of Chicago and also controls an area on West Roosevelt Road in the 3000 blocks.

CG T-4 advised in March, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK still controls bookmaking on West Roosevelt Road in Chicago and for years has had a gambling and bookmaking operation going at the New Lawndale Restaurant, 3714 West Roosevelt Road.

It should be noted that this gambling location has been raided numerous times by the Intelligence Division of the Chicago Police Department based on FBI information.

CG T-5 advised in April, 1967, that [redacted] had been meeting with LEONARD PATRICK concerning the forthcoming baseball season. It was decided by PATRICK that all bookmakers were to be charged a two per cent commission on all bets. The informant said that [redacted] and [redacted] are bookmakers for LEONARD PATRICK.

On April 21, 1967, a raiding party led by Lieutenant [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, entered a gambling location at 848 North Marshfield, Chicago, and arrested [redacted] and [redacted] bookmakers for LEONARD PATRICK, and charged them with syndicated gambling. This raid was based on FBI affidavits and it was determined there was no interstate FBI violations involved. Lieutenant [redacted] estimated the monthly betting handle of this bookmaking establishment to be over one-half million dollars and it was supposedly one of the largest bookmaking operations in Chicago.

CG T-5 advised in February, 1967, that [redacted] and ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN work for LEONARD PATRICK in gambling and "juice" operations on Chicago's far north side.

CG T-5 further advised in February, 1967, that it was reported that LEONARD PATRICK had returned to Chicago around the middle of February, 1967, after spending a couple of weeks in the Miami, Florida area. According to the informant, this was one of the first vacations PATRICK had taken for a number of years.

CG T-6 advised in April, 1967, that [redacted] also known as [redacted] is [redacted] of "BOODIE" COWAN, and is also a close associate of LEONARD PATRICK. The informant said that [redacted] is reportedly employed as a supervisor for [redacted].

During spot checks in March, April and May, 1967, at the residence of PATRICK at 2820 West Jarlath, Chicago, neither PATRICK or any member of his family were observed.

Synopsis: Informants at Chicago advise LEONARD PATRICK still active in "juice" and gambling activities for Chicago "outfit". ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN, "juice" collector for PATRICK, missing on 7/5/67 and found slain in gang-land fashion in trunk of his car on 7/12/67. Informants advised COWAN misused "juice" funds of PATRICK organization.

Interview with [redacted] set out. PATRICK reportedly still has interest in Douglas Park Hotel, Chicago. [redacted] and [redacted] reported to be "juice" collectors for subject. Subject or members of family not observed during spot checks in June, July, August, or September, 1967 in Chicago area.

DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised in June, 1967, that ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN and MICHAEL PATRICK, both "juice" collectors for LEONARD PATRICK were observed together on June 19, 1967 at Estelle's Restaurant, 3420 West Devon, Chicago, and that this location is evidently a "juice" collection station. COWAN was observed in his 1965 red Chevrolet Impala with a black vinyl top, bearing 1967 Illinois license plates CU 7058. MIKE PATRICK, at the time, was driving a white, 1960 Oldsmobile bearing 1967 Illinois license plates HF 3330.

Records of the Illinois Secretary of State's Office reflect the following concerning 1967 Illinois license plate registrants:

It should be noted that MIKE PATRICK is a brother of LEONARD PATRICK and along with another brother, JACK PATRICK, has worked many years as "juice" collectors for the PATRICK organization.

CG 92-374

CG T-1 further advised that LEONARD PATRICK is still active in gambling and "juice" in the Rogers Park and Albany Park Sections of Chicago.

CG T-2 advised, in the early part of July, 1967, that [redacted] of "BOODIE" COWAN, was inquiring among the Chicago criminal element concerning the whereabouts of [redacted] "BOODIE". [redacted] evidently contacted LEONARD PATRICK concerning "BOODIE" but PATRICK advised him he knew nothing concerning "BOODIE's" whereabouts.

CG T-2 further advised in August, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK is no longer popular with certain members of the Chicago "outfit" because he is not making enough money for them. It is being rumored that PATRICK may be removed from his important position in the "outfit" inasmuch as the Italian element is attempting to rid themselves of the Jewish element who have been given power in the past, especially in the gambling field.

The informant said that this is probably due to the fact that local and Federal "heat" on gambling has led to so many raids on wire rooms and gambling establishments and that PATRICK has gotten a great deal of unfavorable newspaper publicity.

CG T-3 advised in early July, 1967, that "BOODIE" COWAN has been missing from his residence since July 5, 1967 and, undoubtedly, will end up "in a trunk" because he is in trouble with the LEONARD PATRICK group concerning "juice" collections. The informant advised that it is rumored that COWAN had misused "outfit" funds for his own use.

[redacted] on July 11, 1967, appeared at the Chicago FBI Office and advised SA HAROLD K. JOHNSON that he is [redacted] of ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN. [redacted]

[redacted] advised that [redacted] "BOODIE", who is reportedly a "juice" collector for LEONARD PATRICK has been missing since 8:30 p.m. July 5, 1967. [redacted] said that he is fearful that [redacted] may have met with foul play by someone in the Chicago "outfit". He said that he has no personal knowledge that "BOODIE" is involved in any illegal activities but he said that he has read this numerous times in the local newspapers. He said that he had reported [redacted] missing to the Chicago Police Department and to United States Attorney EDWARD V. HANRAHAN and had also reported it to the clerk of Federal Judge MAROVITZ. He said that his family has known Judge MAROVITZ for many years.

[redacted] advised that, as far as he knew, [redacted] "BOODIE", was employed as a salesman and solicitor for the H & S Motor Service, 3916 West 16th Street, Chicago, Illinois. He said this company is owned and managed by [redacted]

[redacted] said that [redacted] "BOODIE", was a family man and a non-drinker who had excellent war records after having served with Carlson's Raiders in World War II. He said that "BOODIE" was honorably discharged in 1946 and since went into business in a delicatessen at Grand and Rush Streets, Chicago. On July 12, 1967, a missing persons notice was set out by the Chicago Police Department along with a photo and description of ARTHUR COWAN.

The body of ARTHUR COWAN was found in the trunk of his car at 7:30 p.m., July 12, 1967 in front of a residence at 419 South Kilpatrick, Chicago, Illinois. COWAN had been shot in the head in gang-land fashion and the body was decomposed at the time it was found by the Chicago Police Department.

CG T-4 advised in July, 1967, that LENNY PATRICK, [redacted] and DAVIS YARAS had met in late May, 1967 at the Frenkel Delicatessen at Cicero and Touhy Avenues, Chicago. The informant said that this had also been a meeting place in the past where these persons have met with "BOODIE" COWAN. The source further advised that "BOODIE" COWAN had travelled to Cicero in June, 1967 to have a meeting with "FIFI" BUCCIERI.

b7C

CG T-4 further advised that on July 4, 1967, "BOODIE" COWAN was observed at Arlington Park race track. The source further advised that MIKE PATRICK, a brother of LENNY, was active in the "juice" business with "BOODIE" COWAN. The source continued that it has been rumored that [redacted] may have taken a part in the killing of "BOODIE" COWAN.

b7C

An article appearing in the Chicago Daily News, July 11, 1967 stated that hoodlum ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN had dropped out of sight and had been missing since July 5, 1967. The article said that COWAN was last seen by his step-son, LOUIS CAPUTO and that CAPUTO had stated that COWAN had left on a business trip for the South Side of Chicago on the evening of July 5, 1967. The article said that COWAN is a Lieutenant of LENNY PATRICK, North Side mob chief and that COWAN operated the B & B Delicatessen, 3431 Peterson, which Chicago Police called a headquarters for PATRICK's "juice" loan business and a drop-off point for bookies.

An article appearing in the Chicago "Tribune," July 13, 1967, showed that ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN, age 46, a North Side loan shark terrorist was found murdered on July 12, 1967 in his car which was parked in front of a private home at 418 South Kilpatrick, Chicago. The article said that COWAN was a "juice" collector for LEONARD PATRICK and DAVIS YARAS and that, evidently, he had been dipping into the cash entrusted to him by his crime syndicate bosses.

An article appearing in the Chicago "American," July 13, 1967, showed that ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN was the 1004th gang-land slaying in Chicago and that slaying number 1003 had been that of ALVIN ROSENBERG, a friend of COWAN. The article further indicated that COWAN was a "juice" collector for LEONARD PATRICK and that he had reportedly been in trouble with the Chicago "outfit". The article said that United States Attorney EDWARD V. HANRAHAN had disclosed that a man, a member of COWAN's family, came to his office on July 11, 1967 and asked aid in finding "BOODIE" COWAN. HANRAHAN was quoted as saying that the man could furnish no reason or information concerning the slaying and that he, HANRAHAN, felt that the relative was withholding information because of fear.

Chicago T-5 advised in July, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK still has an interest in the Douglas Park Hotel on Roosevelt Road in Chicago and occasionally visits there. The informant also advised that PATRICK still goes to the Top Hat Lounge on West Morse Street, Chicago.

CG T-6 advised in August, 1967, that [redacted] and [redacted] are "juice" collectors for the LEONARD PATRICK group. The source said that [redacted] is reported to be a former [redacted] who worked closely with former [redacted] was sentenced to 99 years on a local murder charge in Chicago. b6 b7C

An article appearing in the October 10, 1967 issue of the Chicago "Tribune" reflected that a group of Chicago crime syndicate hoodlums and their associates were denied a hearing by the United States Supreme Court on a Challenge of Subpoena issued by the Illinois State

Crime Investigating Commission. Listed in this group was LEONARD PATRICK, described as a far North Side gambling overseer and loan shark.

During spot checks in June, July, August and September, 1967, at the residence of PATRICK at 2820 West Jarlath, Chicago, Illinois, at the Pittsfield Building, 55 East Washington, Chicago, and at the Black Angus Restaurant, 7127 North Western Avenue, Chicago, neither PATRICK nor any members of his family were observed.

Title: LEONARD PATRICK

Character: ANTI-RACKETEERING

Synopsis: Informants at Chicago advise PATRICK in poor health and still overseeing bookmaking operations in Rogers Park, Albany Park and West Roosevelt Road area of Chicago. PATRICK still active in "juice" and his group is headed by his brother MIKE PATRICK as a collector. PATRICK reportedly extremely close to the late ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN and reportedly had nothing to do with the killing of COWAN. Subject and members of his family not observed during spot checks in October, November and December, 1967.

CG 92-374

DETAILS:

Activities and Associates

CG T-1 advised in October, 1967, that LEONARD PATRICK occasionally still comes to the restaurant in the Pittsfield Building, 55 East Washington, Chicago. The informant advised he has heard that PATRICK is in poor health and is extremely depressed. The informant said that he has heard that PATRICK, although reportedly divorced from his wife, still spends a considerable amount of time at his residence at 2820 Jarlath and that PATRICK derives most of his income from bookmaking and "juice" activities. PATRICK allegedly controls the Rogers Park and Albany Park Sections of Chicago for the Chicago "outfit". PATRICK also has control of a small area on West Roosevelt Road in Chicago, which centers on the New Lawndale Restaurant in the 3700 Block of West Roosevelt Road.

CG T-1 further advised that he had heard that PATRICK may be going to Florida again this year, as he did last year for a few months during the winter.

CG T-2 advised in October, 1967, that the New Lawndale Restaurant at 3414 West Roosevelt Road, Chicago, is still active as a west side gambling center and is under the control of LEONARD PATRICK. The informant advised that this gambling operation has been raided several times during the past, but that the raids do not seem to slow up the operation for a long period of time.

CG T-2 further advised in November, 1967, that bookmaking activities and gambling operations are still continuing at the New Lawndale Restaurant. The operation is run by [redacted] and is still under the domination of LEONARD PATRICK.

CG T-3 advised in October, 1967, that [redacted] and [redacted] are still "juice" collectors for the LEONARD PATRICK group. The informant advised that [redacted] is a former [redacted] and that he and [redacted] work directly under MIKE PATRICK, who handles the "juice" operation for his brother LEONARD.

b7c

CG 92-374

CG T-4 advised in November, 1967, that a recent bookmaking operation, which was raided by the Internal Revenue Service on Sunday, November 19, 1967, had belonged to LEONARD PATRICK and [REDACTED]. The informant advised that LEONARD PATRICK receives a cut of the proceeds of all gambling operations in the Rogers Park and Albany Park Sections of Chicago.

b7C

CG T-5 advised that LEONARD PATRICK was reportedly a close personal friend, as well as an employer of ARTHUR "BOODIE" COWAN, who was killed in gangland fashion in July, 1967. The informant advised that it had been rumored after COWAN's death among the criminal element that PATRICK had a hand in the gangland slaying of COWAN, due to the fact that COWAN was converting PATRICK's money to his own use. The informant said that he is fairly certain that this information is not true and that PATRICK had no part in the killing of his friend "BOODIE".

CG T-5 further advised that "BOODIE" COWAN was extremely frugal with his own money and was probably a millionaire. The informant said he had heard that LEONARD PATRICK and COWAN never had any trouble concerning their association, although COWAN was a number one "juice" collector for the PATRICK group for a number of years.

CG T-6 advised in December, 1967, that MIKE PATRICK, a brother of LEONARD PATRICK, is the number one "juice" collector for the PATRICK group and is an extremely vicious individual. The informant said that LEONARD PATRICK in recent years has removed himself from the actual enforcement of "juice" loans and leaves this strictly up to MIKE PATRICK and other collectors for the group.

ADMINISTRATIVE

The extensive investigative period of this report is attributed to the Case Agent spending a considerable amount of time in Chicago cases captioned [REDACTED] ITWI, (Chicago File 165-9), " and "JOHN PHILIP CERONE, Sr., aka, ET AL; ITAR - GAMBLING, (Chicago File 166-1045)."

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] advised SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] on 10/19/68 - 10/21/68, that [REDACTED] Chicago Policeman who was paid $500 to keep bookmakers informed as to impending police raids, has also been used to install and tap telephones for the "outfit". [REDACTED] is very close to LEONARD PATRICK, DAVE YARAS, and PHIL ALDERISIO.

The sources also stated that LEONARD PATRICK, BEN EPSTEIN, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] operated bookmaking offices which would use [REDACTED] information.

ALBERT FRABOTTA was a collector for LEONARD PATRICK; however, he is not considered intelligent and lost out with the "outfit" when he was badly beaten gambling. Above informants advised that during that period when CHARLES "CHUCK" NICOLETTI was operating a carpet business he had a wedding anniversary, and asked [REDACTED] to go to the Nortown Jewelers and obtain a certain type of gold trim set of china in service for 12. The cost of this china was approximately $1,500, and NICOLETTI told [REDACTED] to get it, but do not pay for it. [REDACTED] went to Nortown Jewelers where he spoke to [REDACTED] and took delivery on the dishes. The dishes were then given to CHUCK NICOLETTI, and no payment was made. Subsequently [REDACTED] called [REDACTED] asking for his money. At that time he was told in plain English that no payment "was going to be made nor was any payment contemplated." A short time later [REDACTED] received a telephone call from LENNY PATRICK who demanded payment, and stated the Nortown Jewelers was his. [REDACTED] told PATRICK not to talk to him but to speak with "CHUCKIE". PATRICK said "CHUCKIE who?" When informed it was CHUCK NICOLETTI, PATRICK said

OK, forget it."

Above sources advised that [redacted] was in the company of BOODIE "COWAN" and HERBERT BLITZSTEIN, one night. During the evening COWAN told him he received a telephone call from [redacted] who informed him he wanted to show him some photographs. COWAN thought there was something strange about the call as [redacted] had told him LENNY PATRICK suggested that they meet; and in addition, [redacted] suggested to him that he drive his wife's car and come "out South." COWAN also remarked he was not very friendly with [redacted] and did not like him. COWAN told [redacted] and BLITZSTEIN he called PATRICK to inquire as to whether he should make the meet with [redacted] and PATRICK told him to go ahead and make it.

The next morning [redacted] learned that COWAN was missing [redacted] then called HERBERT BLITZSTEIN at his residence, and when [redacted] BLITZSTEIN was told COWAN had not returned home he exclaimed "[redacted] hit him." According to source, COWAN was considered LENNY PATRICK's man, and only PATRICK could set him up.

After COWAN's body had been found in a mutilated condition, LENNY PATRICK made the remark that "BOODIE" had to be put to sleep."

The above sources said that [redacted] an individual who looked very much like PHIL ALDERISIO, is a degenerate gambler, and is regularly at the Racetracks. He owned [redacted] and now operates [redacted] He is a friend of LEONARD PATRICK and was formerly close to BOODIE COWAN.

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 10/18/68, that he frequently bet with [redacted] who works for LEONARD PATRICK

[redacted] advised SA PAUL J. NEUMANN on 12/13/68, that [redacted] who was recently arrested in connection with a football parlay card case, is a bookmaker at the pharmacy where he works. He is not considered a large operator, and when he receives what he considers to be a large bet, he lays it off either with YUDIE LUFMAN or [redacted]

Above informant remarked that [redacted] who was arrested in a gambling raid on his apartment last weekend, books sports bets by himself but lays off the larger action to LEONARD PATRICK's group. DETAILS:

CG T-1 advised on September 17, 1968, that LEONARD PATRICK's card game, primarily for the Jewish element on Chicago's far North Side, was moved from Lake Shore Drive approximately two weeks ago, and is now located at the Sherman Bridge Club, 6970 North Glenwood, Chicago. To gain entrance into the gambling room it is necessary to go through the Bridge Club Room which affords protection. Various card games are played, and Friday night is considered to be the busiest.

The following investigation was conducted by IC [redacted]:

[redacted] Auto Registration Section, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois, advised on September 19, 1968, that a check of records discloses the following 1968 Illinois License. [redacted] was issued December 12, 1967, to [redacted] on a [redacted] 1967 Oldsmobile Sedan.

1968 Illinois License [redacted] was issued February 16, 1968, to [redacted] for a 1967 Buick Coupe.

1968 Illinois License 865 120 was issued December 11, 1967, to LEONARD PATRICK, 2820 West Jarlath, for a 1967 Oldsmobile 98.

On November 26, 1968, 1968 Illinois license 865 120 was on an automobile other than that previously observed being driven by the subject.

On December 19, 1968, [redacted] mentioned above, advised that records in his possession failed to disclose any transfer of cars for the above license.

CG 92-374

CG T-1, on October 29, 1968, stated that LEONARD PATRICK controls all gambling on Chicago's far North Side. Anyone can open a dice or card game or wireroom operation; however, because of PATRICK's organization, patrons of same are reluctant to start up with someone new. For this reason, any action going on on the far North Side is "locked up" by PATRICK.

CG T-2, on December 13, 1968, stated that the [redacted] game next door to the Sherman Bridge Club is still in operation and being controlled by LENNY PATRICK, [redacted] and "OBIE" FRABOTTA. Informant stated Monday nights are quite active. He added that cards bearing certain markings are used in lieu of money or chips in case of a raid.

CG T-3 advised on December 20, 1968, that [redacted] and [redacted] are reputed to be gambling overseers on Chicago's far North Side working directly under LEONARD PATRICK. The source advised it is highly doubtful that either [redacted] would be working directly in a book.

A public source of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company advised telephone number [] is subscribed to by [].

Informant, on subsequent contacts, was unable to corroborate the above information relative to telephone number [].

[redacted] who has a sports bookmaking operation, is directly responsible to LENNY PATRICK. [redacted] reportedly suffered heavy losses during the 1968 - 1969 basketball season, and is supposed to stay out of action until the start of the regular baseball season.

PATRICK's books during the basketball season would limit individual bets to $500 for a single game at the designated point spread. If the customer desired to bet an additional $500 he would have to give up 1 1/2 point.

On 4/9/69, [redacted] stated that with regard to LEONARD PATRICK's bookmaking operation, PATRICK splits on a 50-50 basis with DAVE YARAS. Source also knows PATRICK and YARAS to pay off to the outfit "out west" - Chicago's West side, but does not know the amount.

Informant also advised on the above date that in view of the highly successful past year enjoyed by the PATRICK bookmaking organization, PATRICK rewarded [redacted] with a bonus of $5,000 around Christmas, but the other bookmakers for PATRICK, however, received no special considerations.

Weekly expenses for the PATRICK bookmaking group now exceed $3,000. Whereas the limit for any one betting customer of PATRICK's during the basketball season was $500, the limit on a single baseball bet has been raised to $1,000.

[redacted] is a bookmaker for PATRICK but is considered a small operator in that he handles possibly as few as 20 betting customers at any one time.

[REDACTED] and possibly [REDACTED] Each of these bookmakers is sitting in a location by himself and calling out to the customers. Their hours are approximately 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Most of the aforementioned are believed to be operating in suburban areas. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] b6 b7C operate on a 50-50 basis with PATRICK and they put up all the money. "YUDIE" LUFMAN has a 25 percent book with PATRICK, and under this arrangement LUFMAN keeps only 25 percent of the profit his book makes, but PATRICK puts up all the money.

On May 13, 1970, CG T-1 stated that "YUDIE" LUFMAN is the only one of PATRICK's bookmakers who is booking baseball bets by calling the bettors from the street.

Above source stated that [REDACTED] who had a 25 percent book with LEONARD PATRICK won [REDACTED] in his bookmaking operation last year, thereby accounting for [REDACTED] as [REDACTED] share.
